Run for Your Lives Tour 2025 Guests:Avatar THE WORLD TOUR 'RUN FOR YOUR LIVES' WITH A SHOW AT MEO ARENA, IN LISBON, ON JULY 6TH 2025, CELEBRATES 50 YEARS SINCE THE BAND FORMATION IN 1975.IRON MAIDEN WILL PRESENT A LINEUP COMPOSED OF SONGS FROM THEIR CAREER-DEFINING FIRST YEARS AND PROMISE THAT IT WILL BE THE BIGGEST SHOW EVER! IRON MAIDEN will kick off their 'RUN FOR YOUR LIVES' world tour on May 27 next year in Budapest, after which there will be 27 concerts in stadiums, festivals and arenas across Europe. This route, which celebrates 50 years since Steve Harris founded the band at the end of 1975, is also set to stop in Portugal, with the British legends taking to the stage at the MEO Arena in Lisbon on July 6 next year. To celebrate this occasion, IRON MAIDEN fans can expect a very special line-up of songs, covering their first nine studio albums, from “Iron Maiden” to “Fear Of The Dark”, in what will be their most spectacular and elaborate performance ever! Trooper VIP packages will be available at all shows. Says lead singer Bruce Dickinson: “Next year is going to be very special for IRON MAIDEN and we're going to give our fans a once-in-a-lifetime live experience. This is a tour that will put a smile on your faces and excitement in your throats. If you've seen us before, get ready to take that experience to a whole new level. If you've never seen us before, what have you been waiting for? This is your chance to find out what you've been missing! IRON MAIDEN will definitely surprise you!”. Manager Rod Smallwood adds: “50 years of Iron Maiden and I've seen 46 of them! With over 100 million albums sold and almost 2,500 shows in 64 countries to millions of fans and counting, we continue to love every second of it and consider every tour a new challenge to bring something different and exciting to our fans. For this very special occasion, we're raising the bar!We'll be performing classics and fan favorites from the first nine albums, from “Iron Maiden” to “Fear Of The Dark”, many of which we haven't played in years and will most likely never play again in the future. We've already been working hard for months to put together an even more spectacular and elaborate new set, which will bring the songs to life like we've never been able to do before. These are going to be huge years for IRON MAIDEN and, of course, for Eddie too, and we're very excited about what we have in store for you, the fans, throughout our 50th year of existence. I promise you'll all be very pleased!”. The second half of the 'RUN FOR YOUR LIVES' TOUR 2025/26, which includes the concert at MEO Arena in Lisbon on July 6, 2025, will also feature Swedish band AVATAR as guests. Highly ambitious wizards, the visionaries of metal'n'roll fusion, AVATAR, blur the line between image and sound and have been tearing down the boundaries between what is usually seen as a band and a theater troupe for over two decades. Along the way, they have already become a global phenomenon. Opening times Doors open: 18h00Start of show: 19h30 IRON MAIDEN BIOGRAPHY It's a story like no other - a sound that changed the world. In the almost 50 years since bassist Steve Harris's vision was born in the modest, working-class sprawl of East London, IRON MAIDEN have become nothing less than an institution. More than the tours that have criss-crossed the globe or the albums that have smashed the sales charts and inspired a fan base that can be found in every time zone, the almost mythical status and undeniable cultural impact of the British band cannot be overstated, but it is the fact that theirs is a narrative that continues to unfold to this day that is truly noteworthy. IRON MAIDEN simply take no prisoners - not when they first started out, and not now; and in the decades since they began their journey, they have grown to embody a spirit of bold creative independence, an unwavering dedication to their fans and a cheerful indifference towards their critics that can only be described as legendary. If there's one thing we already know, it's that IRON MAIDEN never stand still for long, and their ability to make the extraordinary seem routine has never wavered. With the band's 50th anniversary approaching, a new tour now appears to fill the horizon, matching the colossal scale of a truly unique half-century. The aptly titled 'Run For Your Lives' will take the British band to some of the biggest venues they've ever played and is designed to spark the imagination and continue their commitment to reaching ever higher with a line-up and productions that will delight fans of all generations: a global celebration of the past, present and eternal living legend. IRON MAIDEN were formed in London's East End in 1975 by bassist Steve Harris, quickly establishing themselves as a force to be reckoned with in the then emerging New Wave of British Heavy Metal. Their self-titled debut album, released in 1980, was a landmark that also introduced the world to their iconic mascot, Eddie. Its 1981 successor, “Killers”, continued this rise and saw the band embark on their first world tour, which would serve as a model for the continuous production of records and for a tireless route of shows that would continue for years and decades to come. “Killers” would be the band's last album with singer Paul Di'Anno, who was replaced by Samson's Bruce Dickinson for the recording of 1982's explosive ‘The Number Of The Beast’, which reached #1 in the UK album chart. Their commercial success inspired a decade of relentless touring and album releases, including 1983's acclaimed “Piece Of Mind”, which spawned two epic singles, “The Trooper” and “Flight Of Icarus”, and 1984's “Powerslave”, which set the stage for the marathon World Slavery Tour: 198 concerts in 28 countries over 13 months, including four consecutive sold-out shows at the Long Beach Arena, which would serve as the basis for the iconic “Live After Death” album, as well as their first headlining performance at Rock In Rio. The 1980s also saw the release of the celebrated 1986 album “Somewhere In Time” and the landmark 1987 “Seventh Son Of A Seventh Son”, which closed a decade of triumph and firmly cemented IRON MAIDEN in the annals of global music history. The 1990s brought significant changes for the band, with guitarist Adrian Smith leaving in 1990 to be replaced by Janick Gers, as well as Bruce Dickinson leaving after the release of “Fear Of The Dark” in 1992. During this period, Blaze Bayley held the vocalist position for two albums before Bruce returned in 2000. This change brought about the band's final and current line-up, with Steve Harris on bass, Nicko McBrain on drums and “the three amigos” - Adrian Smith, Dave Murray and Janick Gers - on guitars. This period also marked the release of “Brave New World” in 2001, which marked the band's triumphant third act, a period of incredible forward momentum that continues to this day. To date, IRON MAIDEN have released 17 studio albums, 13 live albums and 47 singles, which have sold over 100 million copies worldwide. The band has played almost 2,500 live concerts in 64 countries and was transported to some of these events aboard Ed Force One, a Boeing 757 and later a 747, piloted by singer Bruce Dickinson. The group has won a Grammy Award and a Brit Award, among many other prizes, and has recently joined the Rolling Stones and Pink Floyd with its own collection of Royal Mail stamps. Their beer, Trooper Beer, is already in its tenth year of production and has sold over 38 million pints, being distributed in 68 countries, including four local variants in the United States, Germany, Brazil and Spain. IRON MAIDEN's most recent album, 2021's “Senjutsu”, reached #1 in 27 countries and was named metal album of the year by Rolling Stone. 2024 will see the end of The Future Past world tour, before the start of the new Run For Your Lives Tour, scheduled for 2025 and 2026. This tour will celebrate the band's 50th anniversary and will include on its route some of the biggest venues the band has ever played. I promise you are all going to be very happy indeed!” On Saturday June 28th the band will perform at the London Stadium, home of West Ham Football Club – the team that band founder Steve Harris has supported throughout his life, and with whom IRON MAIDEN have a long and storied history. This concert in front of over 60,000 fans, will be the first time that IRON MAIDEN have performed on the club’s hallowed turf. A true homecoming show – with Steve Harris, Dave Murray, Adrian Smith & Nicko McBrain all born in the surrounding area – it will also be the biggest UK venue the band have ever headlined outside of their festival appearances. Steve Harris says, “My love of football and my support of West Ham is no secret, and I know many of our fans around the world have shared that with me too. So we’re all very excited to be playing at the London Stadium as part of the RUN FOR YOUR LIVES tour. We can’t wait to see you all there!” All 2025 (8) 2024 (21) 2023 (21) 2022 (26) 2021 (29) 2020 (29) 2019 (24) 2018 (17) 2017 (27) 2016 (33) 2015 (53) 2014 (25) 2013 (45) 2012 (49) 2011 (37) 2010 (51) 2009 (51) 2008 (86) 2007 (79) 2006 (50) 2005 (25) 2004 (1) 2003 (1) 2001 (5) 2000 (18) 1990 (7) Ao continuares a navegar estás a consentir a utilização de cookies que possibilitam a apresentação de serviços e ofertas adaptadas aos teus interesses. Os bilhetes para o concerto na Meo Arena, em Lisboa, vão estar em pré-venda já no próximo dia 24, nas lojas Fnac, durante 24 horas, e entram em venda geral dois dias depois, a 26 de Setembro, a partir das 10h.Esta tour mundial tem início a 27 de Maio do próximo ano, em Budapeste, na Hungria, seguindo-se mais 27 concertos em estádios, festivais e arenas por toda a Europa. Para esta série de concertos, os Iron Maiden preparam "um alinhamento de canções muito especial, abrangendo os nove primeiros álbuns de estúdio, de Iron Maiden a Fear Of The Dark", adianta a promotora Prime Artists. Como convidados, trazem a banda sueca Avatar, da fusão metal'n'roll, que anda "há mais de duas décadas a derrubar fronteiras entre o que é habitualmente visto como uma banda e uma trupe de teatro", escreve a Prime Artists.Citado no comunicado da promotora, o vocalista dos Iron Maiden, Bruce Dickinson, assegura que "o próximo ano será muito especial" para a banda britânica, prometendo "uma experiência ao vivo única na vida": "Se nunca nos viram antes [...] esta é a vossa oportunidade de descobrirem o que têm perdido", diz. "Vamos interpretar clássicos e favoritos dos fãs dos primeiros nove álbuns [...], muitos dos quais não tocamos há anos e que, muito provavelmente, nunca voltaremos a tocar no futuro." O manager da banda, Rod Smallwood, também citado no comunicado, acrescenta que os 50 anos dos Iron Maiden se traduzem em mais de "100 milhões de álbuns vendidos e quase 2.500 espectáculos em 64 países".A digressão Run for Your Lives, que sucede a The Future Past - ainda em curso -, tem concertos anunciados para a Chéquia, Eslováquia, Noruega, Dinamarca, Suécia, Finlândia, Escócia, Inglaterra, Irlanda, França, Espanha, Suíça, Alemanha, Itália, Áustria e França, terminando a 2 de Agosto em Varsóvia, na Polónia.Os Iron Maiden regressam a Lisboa três anos depois de terem actuado no Estádio Nacional, no âmbito da digressão Legacy of the Beast, anunciada em 2019, que teve concertos adiados sucessivamente para 2020 e 2021, por causa da pandemia de covid-19. Em 2021, a banda editou o seu mais recente álbum, Senjutsu. Fundados em 1975, os britânicos Iron Maiden têm sido presença recorrente em Portugal. O baixista Steve Harris chegou a ter um bar em Faro durante mais de 20 anos e a banda foi cabeça de cartaz da edição de 2011 da Concentração de Motos da capital algarvia.O primeiro disco dos Iron Maiden com Bruce Dickinson na voz, The Number of the Beast (1982), projectou-os em definitivo para a linha da frente do género musical, sendo autores de múltiplos clássicos dentro do metal como Somewhere in Time e Fear of the Dark.Em Dezembro de 2019, Bruce Dickinson trouxe à Aula Magna, em Lisboa, o espectáculo a solo One-Man Speaking Show, aclamado pela crítica no Edinburgh Fringe Festival. Mais próximo do modelo da stand-up do que de um concerto, o espectáculo contava com música, histórias e perguntas do público, e foi inspirado pelas sessões de apresentação do livro autobiográfico Para que Serve este Botão?, publicado em 2017. 50 a 65 euros Trooper VIP 310 euros Ticketline MEO Blueticket JUNE 2025 Sun 1st – TIPOS Arena, Bratislava, Slovakia Thu 5th – Trondheim Rocks, Trondheim, Norway (Festival) Sat 7th – SR-Bank Arena, Stavanger, Norway Mon 9th – Royal Arena, Copenhagen, Denmark Thu 12th – 3Arena, Stockholm, Sweden Fri 13th – 3Arena, Stockholm, Sweden Mon 16th – Olympic Stadium, Helsinki, Finland Sat 21st – Utilita Arena, Birmingham, England Sun 22nd – Co-op Live, Manchester, England Wed 25th – Malahide Castle, Dublin, Ireland Sat 28th – London Stadium, London, England Mon 30th – OVO Hydro, Glasgow, Scotland JULY 2025 Thu 3rd – Eurockéennes Festival, Belfort, France (Festival) Sat 5th – Estadio Cívitas Metropolitano, Madrid, Spain Sun 6th – MEO Arena, Lisbon, Portugal Wed 9th – Hallenstadion, Zurich, Switzerland Fri 11th – Veltins-Arena, Gelsenkirchen, Germany Sun 13th – Stadio Euganeo, Padova, Italy Tue 15th – Bürgerweide, Bremen, Germany Thu 17th – Ernst Happel Stadium, Vienna, Austria Sat 19th – Paris La Défense Arena, Paris, France Wed 23rd – GelreDome, Arnhem, Netherlands Fri 25th – Deutsche Bank Park, Frankfurt, Germany Sat 26th – Cannstatter Wasen, Stuttgart, Germany Tue 29th – Waldbühne, Berlin, Germany AUGUST 2025 Sat 2nd – PGE Narodowy, Warsaw, Poland
